Dear Valued Patient:

We wanted to take this opportunity to reintroduce ourselves, as many of you have been patients with us through our time with Colorado Heart and Vascular, PC. As one of the most advanced group of cardiologists in the city and the backbone of Heart and Vascular Care at Rose Medical Center, we are pleased to welcome you our new practice – Denver Heart.

As we were unfortunately unable to communicate to you for a variety of reasons prior to the opening of Denver Heart, we felt obligated to explain why the five of us chose to open this new practice together. Over the last several years, all of us at Denver Heart felt the strains of an ever-growing practice with the constant addition of new physicians, which, by nature of growth, changed the experience of the practice. Eventually, our smaller group of doctors and nurse practitioners were faced with the difficult decision of figuring out how to best take care of our patients while trying to run a very large business. Over time, it became apparent to our group that going back to a small, close knit organization offered us the best environment to do what we fully enjoy – practicing cardiovascular medicine. Therefore, while we were thrilled to have the opportunity to launch Denver Heart in our way, again, we are truly sorry for any inconvenience you may have experienced.

At Denver Heart, we are also pleased to take almost all major insurance carriers, including UnitedHealth. If you have any questions regarding your insurance, or would like to learn more about Denver Heart, we welcome you to visit our website at www.HeartCareDenver.com or call 303-331-9121. Please do not hesitate to reach out to us with questions.

Denver Heart is located in the exact same location on the Rose Medical Center campus, conveniently located in Physician Office Building II.
